

All lectures take place at the
Peterborough Museum & Archives

Take Hunter St., East past
Armour Rd. Turn left at Museum Drive.

Free Parking at the Museum.

Take Ashburnham Bus Route.
Request stop at the Museum.

Peterborough Museum & Archives
in Ashburnham Memorial Park
on Museum Drive
300 Hunter Street, East
Peterborough, ON K9J 6Y5
705.743.5180
www.peterboroughmuseumandarchives.ca

Peterborough Museum & Archives

The Peterborough Museum & Archives would like to thank the following sponsors of the Word on the Hill
Lecture Series - Winter 2009-2010:

The City of Peterborough
Electric City Gardens
Fleming College
Trent Central Student Association
Trent University

www.peterboroughmuseumandarchives.ca

705.743.5180

APPENDIX A

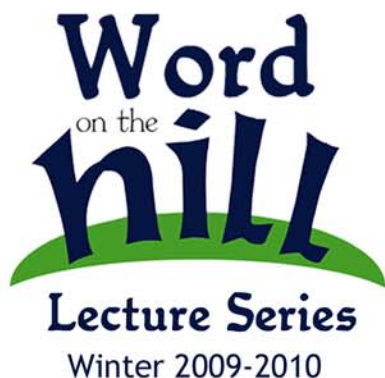

Word on the Hill

Lecture Series

Winter 2009-2010

Tickets - $5 each Limited Seating.
For tickets, call or visit the Museum.

The Word on the Hill Lecture Series is organized by the Peterborough Museum & Archives.

All lectures take place at the Museum and run from 2-4pm, followed by a small reception.
APPENDIX A

Seating is limited. For more information, or to order tickets, please contact or visit the Peterborough Museum & Archives. Everyone is welcome!

Catering provided by Electric City Gardens.

November-December, 2009:

Sunday, November 22, 2-4pm

"The Real Apocalypso - New Perspectives on the Ancient Maya Collapse"

Gyles Iannone, Associate Professor, Archaeology, Trent University
Specialty: Archaeological method and theory, social complexity, archaic states (comparative), New World archaeology, heritage management, archaeology and popular culture.

Sunday, December 6, 2-4 pm

"Trent, McGill and the High Arctic"

Peter Adams, Professor Emeritus, Geography, Trent University
Founder Chair of the Department of Geography at Trent; Specialist in snow and ice who has worked with students in the high Arctic and the sub Arctic. MPP and MP for Peterborough; Author/co-Author or Editor of three recent books: Peterborough and the Kawarthas; Geography at Trent - The First 40 Years; and Trent, McGill and the North.

January, 2010:

Sunday, January 24, 2-4pm

"Places of Power: The Propaganda of Palaces"

Amy Barron

Learn how the ancient Assyrians in the first millennium BCE used the art in their palaces to send messages of power and prestige to the peoples of their empires. The basic message was: do what we say or bad things will happen to you (scenes of war and tribute payments).

Sunday, January 31, 2-4pm

"Murmuring Mounds and Singing Stones - Death, Memory and Colonization in Early Medieval Isle of Man"

Leigh Symonds, Adjunct Faculty, Trent University

Research Interests: Social perception of landscape; material social practices especially related to constructions of ethnicity and gender; the construction of memory and the expression of power.

Peterborough Museum & Archives

in Ashburnham Memorial Park, on Museum Drive

300 Hunter Street, East. Peterborough, ON K9J 6Y5

www.peterboroughmuseumandarchives.ca

Tickets:

705.743.5180

Barrier-free access

Free parking

On the "Ashburnham" Bus Route