Summer Discovery

Camps for Kids

Peterborough
Museum
& Archives

Welcome to Summer Discovery 2012, the Peterborough Museum & Archives' 25th season of providing rich, diverse, educational and fun summer camps for children. We offer camps in art, science, and history. Our leaders are artists, scientists and educators, supported by a team of trained youth counsellors.

We have a beautiful natural setting in the heart of Peterborough for children to play and explore. There is plenty of convenient and free parking at the Museum to facilitate the safe pick-up and drop-off of children.

During Summer Discovery, kids will enjoy an unforgettable experience that will foster a love of creative learning to last a life-time. The programming is inter-active, well-paced and age appropriate.

Programs

July 9-13 - The P.O.P. Drama Project Ray Henderson

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) The P.O.P. Drama Project proudly presents YOU as writer, director and performer in your very own dramatic work. Under the expert direction of Peterborough's Ray Henderson, you'll have fun creating a script, developing characters, designing costumes, building sets, conducting rehearsals - everything required to stage a real production. At the end of the week, invitations go out to family and friends and it's ShowTime!

July 16-20 - Awesome Astro Adventure Peter McMahon

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) Grab your space helmet and some freeze-dried-ice cream, 'cause we're going into orbit! Learn about the latest discoveries on the planets and among the stars through demos, experiments, and action-packed games, see what it would be like to set foot on Mars and take a hands-on look at Canada's aero-space past, present, and future through the museum's exhibit on the Avro Arrow fighter jet.

July 23-27 - Scrapbooking Erin Panepinto

$75

(MORNING ONLY)

(Ages 7 to 11) Experience the pleasure of creating and preserving wonderful memories in a scrapbook all your own. You'll learn all the latest techniques - playing with paper, ribbon, digital cameras, and using a Cricut®. You'll be marbelizing paper with shaving cream, chalking, stamping and embossing and making cards, mini albums and full page layouts.

July 23-27 - Card and Bookmark Art Lois Bugala

$75

(AFTERNOON ONLY)

(Ages 7 to 11) Have fun creating colourful themed greeting cards and bookmarks! Use punches, stamps and ink, pressure embossing techniques, as well as ribbons, buttons, stickers and more to personalize your cards and invitations. Take home new skills to use in future art projects. Keep your creations or give them as gifts!

July 30- Aug 3 - It's Easy Being Green! Laura Rye

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) Kermit may think it's not easy being green, but campers won't after spending the week at the PMA! Find out how yesterday's trash can become today's treasures as we design and make recycled clothing and jewellery, form our very own in-house "Recycled Rock Band", and create one of a kind animal "muppets". Small changes we make today will have a huge difference in our world tomorrow. This is one week you don't want to miss!

Aug 7-10 - Art Adventure for Teens Rebecca Reynolds

(4 days only)

(Ages 12+) Use all your senses and see the world differently from unexpected perspectives when you create amazing artwork such as an 8 foot long painting, a community art installation and an art journal brimming with colour. Explore a variety of art techniques and materials (such as drawing, painting, sculpture and printmaking), as well as finding inspiration while learning about cool, contemporary artists!

Aug 13-17 - Things That Go Bump in the Night Rebecca Reynolds

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) Using paint, paper and your imagination, create your very own 3D monster! It could have a million and one eyes, furry horns, a slithery tail... or all three- it's up to you! Also create a monster mask to wear to the Wild Rumpus Party on the last day of camp. Be ready to make mischief and have a load of fun!

Aug 20-24 - Diggin' It Jacqueline Barrow

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) Explore the worlds of Ancient Egypt, the Aztecs, the Maya and Prehistoric Creatures. Make a scroll using hieroglyphics. Visit pyramids and palaces. Learn how to identify and classify artefacts. If you've ever wanted to know more about the past, then this is camp for you!!! Come and join local archaeologist Jacqueline Barrow at the Peterborough Museum for a week of "Diggin' It"!!

Aug 27-31 - Extreme Machines Peter McMahon

$150

(Ages 7 to 11) Build a Medieval catapult or a rocket-powered helicopter. Make a custom snow-globe using an action figure or doll of your choice. Pilot your own submarine underwater, build a working hovercraft out of DVDs, or create your own movie special effects. We'll also take an exclusive look at the museum's latest exhibit about the late, great, made -in-Canada fighter jet, the Avro Arrow. PLUS you can build a creation of your own design with expert help and a lab full of materials.

About our Instructors

Jacqueline Barrow graduated from Trent University with a degree in Archaeology. She has a background in local children's theatre. Jacqueline is pursuing a career in Museum Management as well as developing educational programs to interest kids in history.

Lois Bugala has over 40 years experience teaching arts and crafts to adults and children. Children love her creative lessons and encouraging, inclusive, learning atmosphere. She has been making cards and invitations professionally for the past seven years.

Ray Henderson is a professional actor and director, active in young people's drama and the director of Arbor Theatre's children's Christmas productions. He is wonderfully skilled in taking young people of any age from Pen to Performance. The Museum is delighted to have Ray back with us for the summer of 2012.

Peter McMahon is an award-winning science journalist and kids author. He creates never-before-seen gadgets, gizmos, and experiments for kids programming, books (like his Machines of the Future series with Kids Can Press), science centres, Parks Canada, and the Canadian Space Agency. His writing has been featured on Discovery Channel, CTV, The Toronto Star, CAA magazine, Canadian Geographic, the kids publication YES Mag, and Sky News and The Canadian Magazine of Astronomy & Stargazing, where he is a contributing editor.

Erin Panepinto is a graduate of Fleming's Museum Management and Curatorship Program and presently delivers children's programming at Hutchison House Museum. There is nothing about 'Scrapbooking' that Erin doesn't know and she is looking forward to sharing her love of crafts with Summer Discovery campers.

Rebecca Reynolds earned her Expressive Arts Certificate at the Haliburton School of the Arts. She has close to 20 years' experience instructing children of all ages using her creative, dynamic teaching style.

Laura Rye is a graduate of the Queen's/Trent Education Program, and brings with her a love of learning, and a commitment to providing a FUN and enriching experience for all of her campers. She is an enthusiastic and energetic leader, and is happy to be a part of the Summer Discovery 'KinderKidz' team again this year.

Cheri Patrick has over 20 years' experience caring for and bringing out the best in children with innovative, child-centred learning in a welcoming, gently structured environment. Her KinderKidz programs are a delightful addition to Summer Discovery at the PMA.
