Re. "Simcoe Park"

Greetings Ken

In an ongoing effort to keep my neighbourhood green I am writing to try to officially establish the status of the park on Simcoe St. bordered by Stewart and Bethune Streets.

When we were meeting to discuss Peterborough's myth/word of mouth history I noticed that the map used in a presentation had no name for this park. Is a park with no name actually a park? Or is it merely city property? Or is the city merely looking for a name?

If the latter is true I would like to recommend it be named Stompin Tom Connors Park, because it was in a bar ^{on Simcoe St}, the King George I believe that he got his name from a man named Boyd MacDonald. Or so the myth/hearsay story goes.

My grandfather used to raise pigs on his farm and one day I asked him if he ever named them, "No not if they are going to end up on the table" he said. That said I hope that this park is or will be named.

Thanks for your attention

Harold
